Records of the Amateur Athletic Association of England

1872-1997

Records of the Amateur Athletic Association of England (AAA). Comprises an extensive sequence of minutes and meeting papers generated by the broad structure of committees which directed the actions of the AAA; financial records; a small amount of circular correspondence; publications, including an almost complete set from the AAA Championships; and ephemera.

These records are of interest to those studying amateur sports, especially athletics culture in England between the late 19th and late 20th centuries. These records cover the vast majority of the Association's years of operation, including the years of both World Wars.

Administrative history: The Amateur Athletic Association of England (AAA) is the successor of the Amateur Athletic Association which was formed to govern athletics in England. Its constituent members are the Athletic Clubs, Counties and Areas within England. The Association has run the AAA Championships for over one hundred years, the oldest of all such meetings. It also organises and prepares England International Teams annually and the Team for the Commonwealth Games every four years. The Association is responsible for providing the structure for athletics within England not only for Track and Field but also Cross Country, Road and Fell Running. It holds Championships for these annually. In addition the Association organises various grass roots activities including a Standards Scheme, and an Awards Scheme, both of which are aimed to encourage sport and health in youngsters by involving them in the various disciplines of Athletics. The Association's Clubs, Counties and Areas are the life blood of the sport, providing Officials, Coaches Administrators and of course many great Athletes. At the Commonwealth Games every four years England brings back a host of medals, providing the backbone of the Track and Field programme with Australia, Canada and South Africa. The Association works with UK Athletics in all areas of the sport and provides over eighty per cent of the UK's international athletes.

The Amateur Athletic Association has a growing

preoccupation with advertising and sponsorship deals, television contracts and the increasing problem of drug use to enhance performance and the need for effective drug test procedures. The Association debated and finally accepted the concept of a single governing body for athletics in the United Kingdom.

	The minutes cover the dates November 1973 - 1991 and the volume also includes annual reports, circulars to members and balance sheets and accounts. The minutes of this volume follow the same themes and usual business of previous Annual General Meetings. The typical matters on the agenda were the election of association officers, reviews of the annual reports and accounts and discussion of amendments to the laws of the association. Extraordinary General Meetings were also held occasionally in addition to the annual meetings. These were conducted to discuss special business and in this case to establish the British Athletic Federation in 1988. The preliminary constitution of the BAF, which was to administer athletics for the whole of the United Kingdom, was discussed at length at the meetings due to the potential implications of the new organization on the AAA. 1 volume Access: Open

ATH/AAA/1/2/3/1	Handicapping Board of Control Minutes This volume contains manuscript meeting minutes covering the dates 10th April 1908- 16th November 1911. The minutes discuss the revision of handicapping regulations and the fees which official handicappers charge entrants to handicap a race. It was stipulated that the handicappers must be an Amateur Athletic Association licensed handicapper and must belong to a club affiliated to the AAA to handicap in their own district. The function of handicapping was facilitated by the setting of time standards or distances for track and field events. The minutes primarily handle protests and complaints regarding the handicapping system and the start times allocated to athletes. The minutes resolve that each handicap mark or allowance allocated to an athlete is noted in the event	1908-1911 programme. The minute book includes copies of letters sent to handicappers and concluded that the handicaps be registered on the entry forms. The volume also contains minutes of the Joint Board of Control which consisted of representatives from all the AAA County Handicapping Boards of Control (Northern, Southern and the Midlands), which met to discuss and formulate the uniformity of time standards in order to regulate and control the system of handicapping, and to supervise handicappers practice. Generally the meetings dealt with letters of complaints from athletes concerning the starts allocated to them by the handicapper, usually addressed by a request for an explanation from the handicapper resulting sometimes in their licence being suspended. The granting of full and partial licenses to handicap also occupied much of the meetings with a list of applicants and those to whom licenses were granted noted. Cycling events and championships were also handicapped by AAA approved handicappers and this is discussed. Time penalties incurred for wins and placing within the top three are noted within the minutes. Loose Leaves consist of a list of complaints received regarding handicap marks, a list of time standards, start limits and scale of penalties.

Special Olympic Committee Minutes

1911-1923

Volume containing minutes covering the dates 1911-1923. The committee had responsibility for the selection of Olympic athletes by organizing the trial games held for the purposes of selection, and the organization of the team's trip ranging from the accommodation for the representatives to the design of the team costume in collaboration with the British Olympic Council. The letter sent out to athletes provisionally chosen for the Olympics prompted responses that revealed the extreme lack of training received by the athletes as advice was requested for aspects such as training, diet, arm action and breathing. Also highlighted were the inadequacies of facilities for rural athletes such as the necessity to dress and undress in the open air and practice in a field. It was highlighted by the committee that promising athletes who lack facilities could certainly develop to championship form if given better training facilities. The minutes also record the committee's discussion of various issues such as funding for training and trainers wages, the cost of and allocation of funds for medals, the organization of an international contest between England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales, discussion of the proposal to include all the Olympic Field Events in the AAA Championships. The minutes report that after a notable discussion it was decided in 1920 that the metric system should not be adopted for the Olympic Trials, County Championships and the General Championships. The volume also includes a list of the number of competitors entered for the Olympic events, names of the selected team and a report on the Antwerp Olympics.

General Olympic Committee Minutes

1923-1932

The volume contains minutes covering the dates August 27 1923 - September 20 1932. The minutes report that two members of the British Olympic Association were invited to join the General Olympic Committee of the AAA. Funds were finally received from the British Olympic Association after much discussion and negotiation to cover all expenses incurred by the AAA for the Paris Olympics of 1924. The committee decided that as far as possible the County Championships were to include a full Olympic programme. The volume also provides details of the selection discussion, list of those selected, a list of approved world records, the appointment of coaches and a report on the IAAF congress of 1932 which noted the prohibition of starting blocks and the Kirby Camera which was used for photo finishes. Championships Committee, later Promotions Committee

1919-1988

The role of the Championships Committee was defined as the committee to '...organise and manage the Senior and Junior and other Championships of the Association'. [source: Vol.9 General Comm. Feb5th 1944] Therefore the committee was responsible for the total organization of the association's annual athletic meetings, the annual AAA sponsored marathon, road race relays, decathlon championships, junior championships, international competitions and other athletic activities. The committee was responsible for every aspect of an athletic meet including the maintenance of stadiums and tracks, equipment, the appointment of officials, medal provision/design, organization of post-championship dinner etc. The committee appears to consist of one representative from each county, the Southern, Midland and Northern Amateur Athletic Association nominated by fellow members plus chairman, honorary team secretary, honorary treasurer, honorary secretary and honorary championship secretary. The Championships Committee changed its name to the Promotions committee in the 1980's.

Championships Committee Minutes

Volume containing manuscript and typescript Championship Committee meeting minutes covering the dates 1919-31, alongside the minutes of the Southern Counties Championships Committee meetings for 1922-1928. The format of the minutes took the traditional form of noting in order those present, minutes of last meeting signed and confirmed apologies, and then matters arising. The issues discussed include the advertising of the championships, price of admission, the appointment of officials and the setting of time standards to be met by athletes who wish to compete in their chosen discipline. Other topics discussed in the meetings encompass all aspects of the organisation of the championships such as printing estimates for the championships programme, medal provision and the commissioning of its design by Messrs T. Frattorini of Birmingham, prices to charge for stadium admission, organization of a post-championship dinner for team and officials, dressing accommodation for athletes at the stadium and a discussion on the question of insurance in case of wet weather. The committee was also responsible for the organization of international matches and the minutes of 10th July 1923 note that the team took a supply of English bread to the International match against France.

The minutes of the Southern Counties Championships Committee meetings include a debate about the erection of a temporary stand to seat 1,000, prices of admission for part of the ground, the hiring chairs, and the organisation of medals, badges, programmes and band for the championships. Loose leaves inserted are three Typed committee meeting minutes covering the dates 1931-1947 and including minutes of the Southern members of the championships committee meetings for 1932-1938. The committee discussed topics such as the choosing of the team captain e.g. Lord Burghley, the organization of the programme of events, which was recommended to the General Committee for approval, and the organization of continental invitations and international meetings e.g. matches against France and Italy for which reports were also received. Aspects of the championships also organized by the committee include dressing rooms, prize distribution, press and refreshments, insurance for competitors, officials and pluvius. Discussions regarding the specifications of the athletic track at White City, which was to host the AAA Championships, encompassed the surface of the track, the specifications of the high jump pit, take off boards for long jump and the steeplechase hedge height. The minutes record that for the 1932 British Empire v USA match the programme of events relate to all male contests with women's events included as additional features, promoting only 2 female competitions in comparison to the men's 10. Each county division within the AAA had its own championships and reports of these are received and recorded in this volume. The minutes for October 1933 document a weakness in field events with the committee observing that more coaching, and of a higher standard is required in order to improve the situation. Therefore in 1934-1936 negotiations between the association and Pathe are annotated regarding the agreement to make a film together, in slow motion, in order to assist the coaching of various disciplines.

Advertising and publicity initiatives during this time included publicity in local press, cinema screen advertising in picture houses, theatres, and music halls, as well as a plan to distribute 2,500

advertising cards to hotels and pubs in, addition to placing posters on railways and sandwich boards. In November 1934 the committee agreed to establish the Indoor Championships with the amateur status of the Indoor Championships defined in 1938. The minutes for 3 December 1938 report the committee's consultation on the use of starting blocks for the first time and the use of electric timing, noting that 'Mr. Abrahams described an instrument for electric timing'. Finally, in May 1939, the decision was made to commission the design from the London Instrument company for a set of starting blocks. The minutes in the volume skip from May 6th 1939 - January 16th 1946, clearly a hiatus for the Second World War. On the committee's return in 1946 the Eric Liddell cup for AAA Junior Champion was established in his honour and the difficulty of staging the Marathon Championships in London due to congestion was noted.

Championships Committee Minutes

Volume containing minutes for the dates 1948-1961. Particularly of note in this volume is the focus of the association on the publicity drive to promote the competitions and the associations through the press and with the BBC who televised competitions and commentated at championships. A significant concern during this time was the endeavour of the association to improve grounds and arena facilities in order to enhance the efficiency of meetings. The entry forms for competitions by athletes were regarded as very important and it was agreed in 1951 that all entry forms be scrutinized by sub-committee in order to safeguard against any wilful omissions. Many applicants were refused entry to their chosen competition primarily due to the need for a smaller field of entrants. In addition the committee also had responsibility for the allocation of honorary awards, these being; CN Jackson Memorial Cup for outstanding athlete/best performance, Harvey Memorial Cup for Best Champions, John Thornton Memorial Trophy for Best High Hurdles time, George Hogsflesh Memorial Trophy for Junior Athlete of the Year, Joe Turner

Championships/Promotions Committee Minutes

1972-1985

Volume consists of minutes covering the dates February 1972 - February 1985. The volume opens with a request for members of the committee to submit their opinions on Championship Standards. The standards refer to the time or height criteria imposed on athletes in order to gain a place in the championships at their chosen event. The primary discussion rests on the revision of these standards, most notably to raise them sensibly. The volume includes championship reports noting results and times of events and often the overall outcome. The committee was responsible for the organization of championships such as the dates and venues, as well as providing lists of candidates and apparently allocating athletics awards. The last entry of minutes for the Championships committee is for January 10 1976, the next minutes in the volume are for the Promotions committee dated November 6 1976. The decision to change the name of the Championships committee to the more general name of Promotions committee is not documented within the minutes. However, it is apparent that the Promotions committee is a continuation of the Championships committee due to the identical responsibilities and issues discussed during meetings.

Promotions Championships Committee Minutes

1985-1988

Partially filled volume containing minutes covering the dates March 19 1985 - September 6 1988. This volume contains minutes from a variety of committees under various names, these consist of; Championships Promotions Sub Committee, Promotions (Championships) Sub Committee, and finally Promotions Championships Committee. It is unclear as to whether these are the same committees under various stages of development although it is apparent that the responsibilities and issues of the committees are similar. These responsibilities include the organization of championships and other major fixtures as well as the reporting of the problems encountered at events. The minutes of 11/11/87 imply the championships committee was still in existence in its own right.

This committee evolved from the original Finance Committee which subsumed the responsibility of administrative matters in May 1931 when it became the Finance and Administrative Committee. The Finance and Administrative Committee then changed its name to the Finance and General Purposes Committee in May 1946 as a result of the association's post-war plan. The function of the committee was to perform the '...administration of the association; to control all expenditure; to consider budgets of committees where necessary; to deal with matters requiring immediate attention and not provided for under any other committee'. [Source: Vol.9 General Comm. April 15 1944]. The

General Purposes Committee and Constitution Sub-committee minutes 1926-1937

The front of this volume contains minutes for the Constitution sub-committee for the year 1937, while the rear of the volume contains minutes of the General Purposes committee from December 6 1926 - June 6 1928.

The Constitution sub-committee was established as a sub-committee of the General Committee in December 1936. The committee was established 'consisting of members nominated by the Southern Committee, and by the M.C.AAA and N.C.AAA to consider the whole constitution of the Amateur Athletic Association and to make recommendations as to the alterations advised for the better government of athletics in England and Wales'. The small number of minute entries in this volume therefore briefly discuss the constitution particularly the allocation of representatives from various districts on the assorted committees.

The minutes of General Purpose's committee imply that these entries are a continuation of previous meetings; however, those volumes are lost. It can be assumed that the administration of the General Purposes committee was closed when the Finance and Administration committee became the Finance and General Purpose's committee in 1946; however the whereabouts of the minutes beyond June 1928 are unknown. The brief entries in this volume discuss protests received from clubs and athletes against decisions made, the discussion of letters received and the question of eligibility of certain athletes to compete.

Finance and General Purposes Committee Minutes

1984-1989

Volume covering the dates February 1984 - February 1989. Amongst a broad range of topics the committee considered details such as the distribution of equipment to areas in relation to the numbers of active clubs, the allocation of funds, for example to the marathon squad, and discussion of the proposal that new premises were required for the association. Members of the committee also dealt with the preparation of the commonwealth games budget, tax issues, the proposal of a Registration Scheme and the undertaking of an initial survey of the computer requirements. The minutes of May 1985 record a meeting on the possibility of staging the Olympics in London in 1992; it was felt that although the idea was met with enthusiasm the Lord Mayor was not taking the correct approach to it. On reporting that a company was seeking to establish and sponsor a series of races the committee resolved that 'it is important that we should maintain vigilance on such interference by outside commercial interests trying to penetrate the sport'. The committee meetings also generated recommendations to be submitted to the General Committee particularly with regard to the administration of British athletics.

ATH/AAA/1/2/9 Physical Fitness Committee 1938-1939

The Amateur Athletic Association was notified by the Government's Board of Education that cooperation was required for their physical recreation campaign to promote exercise for everyone. As a result a committee was established for the running of the physical fitness initiative which involved the establishment of a systematic campaign to provide athletics facilities and specialized training. It was recognized that the AAA could not fund all the provisions necessary so applications for grants were made for financial resources from the National Advisory Council and co-operation with the Education Authorities was forged. It is unclear as to if this committee continued beyond the years for which there are minutes.

Physical Fitness Committee Minutes

1938-1939

Volume covering the minutes for the dates 1938 - 25 March 1939. The results of a questionnaire conducted by the committee to investigate the state of club and coaching facilities available for athletics, revealed the massive shortfall in provisions for the sport. The questionnaire highlighted the inadequacies by emphasizing the fact that some clubs had no grounds available to them and that there was a dire need for equipment such as jumping and throwing pits, hurdles, javelins, poles and even sports clothes. The minutes record the ambitions and plans of the committee to improve this situation by the dissemination of qualified instructors throughout the country to regularly attend the tracks and grounds of both small schools and large centres. Through their efforts the association gained a place for a representative of athletics on the governing body for the proposed National Training College and the minutes record the granting of an awarded to AAA from the National Fitness Council 'to appoint a full-time organizer to stimulate interest in physical training and recreation'. The minutes for 4 October 1938 explains the organization of physical activity which included working with other organizations to arrange and promote inter-village sports meetings and to encourage athletics in boys clubs. The outcome of the committee appears to be the focussed impetus on the need to develop the sport of athletics in every way be it the need to obtain active representation on useful public bodies or to fund a coaching scheme.

Development Committee Minutes

Minutes cover dates December 16 1944 - April 7 1956; however the minutes are not in chronological order. In accordance with the committee's mission this volume documents the initial discussion and plans for the development of athletics in terms of coaches and instruction, the establishment of a summer school, provision of facilities and junior athletics. Tests for trainers to be recognized as AAA coaches were prepared and reported on during the meetings and a list of officials approved by the association as competent judges and timekeepers drawn up for the clubs wishing to use them at events. Having appointed a professional coach under the coaching scheme, which was a programme devised to ensure that coaching became more professional, a summer school at Loughborough was established with the newly appointed coach taking charge of this, and any other AAA organized courses. The provision of facilities for athletics around the country are discussed and reported on according to locality particularly on the availability of tracks. The proposal that films of athletes be produced in order that prints could be provided for training purposes is discussed, as are regulations for Junior athletes specifically age, weight and equipment specifications. Also includes minutes of a meeting of the AAA members of the Festival of Britain sub-committee (1950) and a report into the effects of hammer throwing on school boys.

Development Committee Minutes

Partially filled volume containing minutes for the Development Committee and Development sub-committee covering the dates April 1985 - January 1987. The committee at this point was primarily concerned with the registration scheme which was apparently a venture to establish computerization as an aid in AAA administration by registering the association's members via a compulsory scheme on a centralized system which, amongst other benefits, would assist in ensuring annual subscriptions. All regions were to be provided with the software to fulfil the registration scheme and other requirements. Other issues raised include advertising on club vests, the improvement of the AAA newsletter, and the discussion in 1986 of the proposed amalgamation of both the individual country associations within the UK and the English Women's Amateur Athletic Association and the Amateur Athletic Association. A considerable amount of attention was also paid to the administration of the Amateur Athletic Association, particularly with regard to the administrative areas of the association and the discussions to re-structure the Northern

It is agreed that it can be improved by the establishment of a national league system, and the proposal of dates for a national fixture programme for competitions is suggested. A number of recommendations are advised in a detailed report to improve the presentation of athletics, suggestions include the training of announcers in presentation and technique, coloured numbers to be provided for athletes, the need for warming up areas and the appointment of a chief marshal to ensure arena control. Also included is the 1967 Report on the Joint Conference between the Coaching, Facilities and Organization and Development committee, Officials research questionnaire and analysis of responses, and Notes on the National Exhibition Unit which involves promotional activities.

ATH/AAA/1/2/13 Coaching Committee 1947-1966

The coaching committee was formed in order to improve the standard of track and field events throughout the country. It was a concern that promising young athletes would be lost to the sport once they had left school and no longer participated in junior competitions. The Amateur Athletic Association purposely sought to secure the school leavers interest and talent at club level by encouragement and promotion of the sport and the establishment of an official coaching scheme. The association recognized recognised the need for the qualification of more club coaches to ensure continuity of the coaching of young athletes leaving school. The coaching scheme was established in order to improve athletics at club level through competent instruction. The coaching committee was responsible for the appointment and validation of approved coaches and initially graded them at levels

Records of the Amateur Athletic Association of England

1 or 2 and subsequently imposed the titles of Honorary Coach and Senior Honorary coach. The coaching committee consisted not only of AAA members but also representatives from the Schools Athletic Association; Central Council of Physical Recreation; and from the National Association of Lecturers and Organizers in Physical Education, with the committee ultimately reporting to the General Committee and the Finance Committee. Coaches were appointed by the AAA and allocated to each county area, the coach was to give practical instruction to athletes and engage in preparation of publications. The coaching scheme was an important aspect of the association's work, aimed only at producing coaches and teachers of athletics, it required a large financial investment the securing of which was of utmost priority to the committee.

Coaching Committee Minutes

1947-1966

Volume containing minutes for the dates 1947 - 1966. The committee was primarily concerned with the organization of the coaching scheme and the improvement of the availability of coaching as a whole. The assistance received from the Ministry of Education in funding the services of a coach for the teaching of athletics is discussed and was clearly essential in the association's ability to fund the services. The salaries of the Chief Coach and national coaches are often discussed within the minutes with memorandum of financial arrangements for coaching. An experiment in weight training for athletes was established in 1949 in cooperation with the British Amateur Weightlifting Association (BAWLA). The volume contains a report on publications suggesting the production of 'novice pamphlets' to be written by AAA coaches on various athletic disciplines. D.C.V Watts for example was asked to prepare a pamphlet on the long jump and hop, step and jump and A.R Malcolm was requested to write a pamphlet on the Javelin. It was also recommended that a 'coaching bulletin' to be produced and published regularly. The need for more coaches to meet demand was an issue that arose throughout the course of the meetings. The coaching scheme proved to be very successful and the need for a publication bigger than the Bulletin is discussed, possibly to be replaced by an Athletics Year Book. The need for indoor winter training is noted and discussed and it transpires that the AAA coaches are most often used by the education authorities rather than the clubs, an issue which needs to be rectified. An important duty of the coaching committee was the organization of the Summer School held annually at Loughborough University, the committee arranged details such as publicity, finance and accommodation. The Summer Schools report note that it was very successful especially in attracting international participants. The committee also organized other courses and conferences for coaches. The minutes document the observations of the committee that the press emphasized only the star athletes, that the number of adults participating in athletics/coaching was decreasing, and that there was a severe lack of facilities and competition outside London, with indoor winter training facilities vital for development of the sport. The committee conducted a collaborative experiment with the Royal Academy of Dancing due the connections in training between athletes and dancers, particularly paying attention to the interrelationship with hurdles and high jump. Included in the volume are reports from the meeting of the AAA County Association & District Committee Equipment Representatives 10th March 1954. Issues discussed include discussion of each county's equipment, the introduction of new metal javelins, the design of hurdles and discussion of equipment. It was concluded that coaching problems were very largely linked with equipment problems and vice versa for example it was noted that there was a lack of development in hurdling due to the fact that many clubs couldn't even provide hurdles to train with. It was agreed that each county district was to have free services of the national coach for 5 sessions in order to address the resolution to decentralize coaching and bring it to county level. The volume also includes some minutes of the Equipment and Technical Committee.

ATH/AAA/1/2/13/2 Coaching Committee Minutes 1960-1966

Volume covering the dates 1960-1966, containing committee minutes alongside a list of coaching committee members and limited members, circulars to members and agenda and executive coaching committee minutes. The minutes document the items discussed during the meetings such as financial issues, programme planning, the analysis of reports submitted by Area Coaching Secretaries, and the discussion of letters received from overseas requesting the expertise of the AAA coaches to develop their own countries athletics, for example applications for help were received from Fiji, North Borneo, Malaysia, Nigeria and Canada. It was decided that the instructional booklets produced by the coaching committee were successful enough to warrant a reprint with revisions in 1961. Decisions made by the Finance and General Purposes Committee are of significance to the committee as grants and funds were allocated by them for the coaching scheme. The coaching scheme also received a grant from the Ministry of Education to fund a 7th national coach. The Coaching Scheme and conditions for coaching were clearly strengthened by the external funding, highlighted by its international reputation resulting in the international requests for assistance. In 1965 the issue of an all-weather surface running track and its implications for shoes etc. were discussed at the Development and Coaching Conference and the coaching review undertaken by the General Committee with recommendations for the future of coaching is also included in the volume.

ATH/AAA/1/2/14 Schools Consultative Committee 1949-1986

The promotion of athletics in schools was regarded as an important strand of the Amateur Athletic Association's work. It recognized that the top athletes of the future needed to be nurtured from school age and that the Schools Athletic Association was the largest nursery for the AAA, in an effort to secure athletes beyond school the association needed to liaise between schools and clubs. As a result collaborative initiatives, such as the foundation of a scheme for training young athletes were established to ensure that there would be a pool of athletes for the future of the sport. The function of the committee therefore was to advise on the co-ordination of athletes in the various types of school with the AAA as the governing body. The school athletic activities were to cater for the full range of athletics events whilst protecting those pupils who wished to compete. These volumes provide a complete series of minutes for the dates noted.

Schools Consultative Committee Minutes

1949-1966

Volume containing minutes for the dates covering 1949-1966. The volume opens with a report of a meeting of the representatives of the AAA and the Schools Athletic Association. The meeting was convened by AAA General Committee at the request of the Schools Athletic Association with '...the object being to consider the direct representation of the Schools AA on the General Committee of the AAA'. The Schools AA represented the schools of England and Wales encompassing public schools, grammar schools and technical schools. It was recommended to the General Committee of the Schools AA that a consultative schools sub-committee is established representing all schools in England and Wales for the purpose of facilitating direct representation, and that the committee should nominate a representative direct to the General Committee. The meetings initially discussed the ratio of representation noting that the Schools AA had 5 representatives, the Grammar schools 2 and the Technical, Home, Public and Preparatory schools 1 representative each on the committee. The AAA mentioned that they had no wish to interfere in school athletics, stating that merely the connection with the young athletes after leaving school was the most important factor for their involvement. The minutes in this volume primarily discuss the question of age-groups, facilities for athletes and schools and school athletic equipment. The safety and development of the young athlete was viewed as essential and so detailed discussions on the standardization of equipment and formation of regulations for each discipline according to age-group took place throughout these meetings. For this purpose a medical advisory board was consulted to report on the suitability of certain events and equipment for athletes of specific ages, for example, the distance between hurdles, the weight of the shot and hammer, the diameters of the circle for the discus and shot put etc. The minutes note that in 1961 the Schools Athletic Association changed its name to the English Schools Athletics Association. The volume also includes Annual Report of AAA Schools Consultative Committee, circulars to members and minutes for the Schools Consultative Sub-Committee.

Of utmost importance to the association was the safety of the athletes illustrated by lengthy discussions on safety precautions and the effects of equipment and standards, such as weights for throwing events, on young athletes. ATH/AAA/1/2/15 Athletes To and From Abroad Committee 1949-1955

This committee dealt with applications from clubs and athletes to compete at meets abroad and to permit or decline applications from foreign clubs and athletes to compete at events in Britain. The committee had the authority to decide whether athletes and clubs could accept certain invitations, with the association's primary concern being that the competitions adhere to the association rules and that they do not clash with more important competitions on the athletic timetable.

ATH/AAA/1/2/15/1 Athletes To and From Abroad Committee Minutes 1949-1955

Minutes of the Athletes To and From Abroad committee from 1949-1955. The committee primarily dealt with and discussed applications from individuals or clubs for permission to compete abroad, as well as invitations received from overseas clubs proposing visits from individual athletes or clubs for athletics meetings. Every application for competing abroad, or the arrangement of inviting a foreign club to compete in Britain needed to be sanctioned by the AAA through this committee, if this did not happen the minutes note that the contests could not be regarded as official and were therefore not representative of the British Amateur Athletic Board or the AAA. The minutes indicate that many invitations received from abroad inviting British Athletes for events were refused, the reasons primarily being due to clashes of timetable with important home events and the ability to prepare the fitness of the athletes in time for the meet. The exchange of athletes and clubs particularly occurred with Holland, Belgium, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, South Africa, Eire, Finland and New Zealand. The committee implemented a system of Certification of Amateur Status which acted as a permit for athletes and teams to compete abroad. The minutes note that successful athletes received many more personal invites to tour overseas. A significant amount of invitations were received for example for Roger Bannister, the Jamaican athlete Arthur Wint and the Trinidadian Emmanuel McDonald Bailey. In addition, the committee also dealt with the applications from overseas athletes wishing to join athletics clubs in Great Britain, these athletes originated from places as diverse as India, Eire, the Gold Coast, Nigeria and New Zealand.

Lists of athletes chosen for competitions are contained and the selection criteria noted. The Honorary Team Manager's report reviews proceedings of the previous year.

Fixtures and Selection Committee Minutes

1960-1966

Minutes cover October 16 1960- January 28 1966. The volume starts with a list of the team and travel details for an England versus East Germany match. Lists of applications of athletics meetings requiring competing teams are contained, the minutes record the meets approved by the committee and rejected applications with reasons for those decisions provided. The refusal to send teams to certain competitions were primarily due to a busy athletics programme and clash of timetable. It was noted in 1961 that an increasing number of athletes were being individually invited to compete abroad; this posed a particular problem for the AAA who needed to ensure that the competition complied with the associations rules never violating the status of the amateur athlete. Careful consideration was taken over the approval of athletics competitions with the importance of the meet being of utmost priority alongside the potential benefits for the competitors.

The Commonwealth Games Trial meeting was organized by the committee as a way of selecting the team for the forthcoming Commonwealth games; selection was determined by the athletes performance at the trials alongside recent previous performances. A brief discussion ensues of the report on the commonwealth team and reports from the committee submitted to the general committee are also included within the volume. These note the difficulties of raising a team for less important athletics meets particularly the problems of attracting leading performers. Athletic Advisory Committee Minutes

Volume containing minutes of the Athletic Advisory Committee from April 18 1957 - February 10 1961. The purpose of the committee was to collate views of relevant people regarding the matters which arose so that decisions and proposals could be made that were representative of the athletes opinions. For example the minutes note that the committee received suggestions from athletes for dates of International meetings, a request for physiotherapists and an improvement on the facilities available to the at the stadium. These proposals were noted, informing the committees report which was then submitted to the General committee. The committee addressed the strengthening of weak events and a discussion ensued on the establishment of an International Athletics club for athletes 'for discussion of questions of mutual interest, and to form a collecting centre for ideas which they would like their representatives to put forward at the Athletics Advisory Committee'. A synopsis of the questionnaire results for the proposal of the International Athletics Club is included within the volume. Loose leaves inserted at the rear of the volume consist of drafts of athletic advisory committee reports and manuscript letters recording reasons for the establishment of the committee.

Records and Rules Revision

1959-1986

The establishment and adherence to the rules of the Amateur Athletic Association were a major part of the organizations function. The AAA, as the largest governing body of the sport, had to respond to the needs and developments in athletics, and their most important objective was to advance the sport through their own initiatives. The AAA had to acknowledge new advances in sport technology and equipment and had to react to new considerations affecting sport as a whole, always underpinned by the principle of the amateur sportsperson. Rules therefore needed to adapt or to be established according to the contemporary climate and new athletics records needed to be ratified by the governing body of the sport which determined that any new record set complied with the rules laid down by the association.

However, the vast majority of the meetings are occupied by rules revision with the re-wording, amending, deletion and insertion of new AAA rules, including propositions for changes in IAAF rules.

ATH/AAA/4/1	Newspaper cuttings relating to the National Cyclists Union and the AAA	1889-1895
	Partially filled album of newspaper cuttings primarily relating to the dispute between the Amateur Athletic Association and the National Cyclists Union. The dispute arose when the southern branch of the Amateur Athletic Association refused handicapper licenses to officials who were also National Cyclists Union weight adjusters. The National Cyclists Union protested against this action, threatening the suspension of any agreement the two organizations previously held. The Amateur Athletic Association however believed that '...a man cannot properly keep records of the performances of every person competing in two great branches of sport, and that it is advisable that each body should have its own officials'. Previously the two organizations had a friendly working agreement both having the same principles towards amateurism in sport. Generally the cuttings originate from the Pall Mall Gazette and the Sporting Life and also includes cuttings from these publications relating to cross-country athletics, the re-establishment of the Olympic Games, and the topic of professionalism and amateurism in sport. In 1883 the amalgamation of the Bicycle Union and the Tricycle Association created the National Cyclists' Union. The NCU was a large governing body for the popular sport of cycling, performing similar organizational duties for the sport to which the Amateur Athletic Association provided for track and field athletics. The status and respect of the amateur in sport was a primary importance to both the NCU and the AAA, both striving to eradicate any threat to the amateur sportsman. Therefore in terms of organization and principles the two authorities had much in common and collaborated on the development of their respected sports. Much of the

ATH/AAA/4/3 London Olympic Games 1908

Partially filled scrapbook compiled by W. M. Barnard, Honorary Secretary of Polytechnic Harriers and subsequently AAA Honorary Treasurer, 1910-1932.

Records of the Amateur Athletic Association of England

Material primarily relates to the Olympic Marathon which was run from Windsor Castle to the Great Stadium, Shepherd's Bush. The British Olympic Association asked the AAA to organize the Olympic Marathon and they in turn delegated responsibility to the athletic club, Polytechnic Harriers. The volume contains photographs of the competitors Pietri Dorando of Italy and J. J. Hayes of USA. It illustrates the controversial climax to the event. Although having led the marathon for most of the way Pietri Dorando was exhausted when he reached the end and needed help from spectators to cross the finishing line. This was deemed illegal and he was disqualified, leading to J. J. Hayes being awarded the gold medal. However, due to public sympathy Dorando was also awarded a prize for his intrepid spirit.

Also included in the album are arena tickets for various days of the 4th International Olympiad (13, 20-23, 24 July); a list of the price of tickets, a letter of appointment as timekeeper to W. M. Barnard; and his timekeepers sash. A programme, for the 'Reception of the International Olympic Committee, the British Olympic Council, and the Athletes and Officials taking part in the Olympic Games' held on 13 July, lists the music played at the welcoming ceremony.

The official programme of the Olympic Games list all the events including Athletics, Archery, Golf, Racquets, Polo and Flying Machines. A letter written by Lord Desborough in 1907, on behalf of the British Olympic Council, of which he was President, appealing for donations to help fund the London Olympic Games, is followed by a letter of thanks for financial aid which was donated. A small 'Guide and Sports Diary' for 'The Great Stadium' which accommodated the Olympic events includes a plan of the stadium. Invitations to various official Olympic dinners are also included in the scrapbook. Two programmes for the marathon race which was held on July 24th are followed by a map of the final race route.
